

Invitation to a practical workshop: Metrics for a sustainable capital shift

Date: Tuesday, 20 November 2018, 9:00-17:30 (followed by farewell drinks)
Location: Zürich, Kulturhaus Helferei, Kirchgasse 13

Climate-KIC has supported the development of a variety of innovative tools that allow the better integration of sustainability information into investment and capital market processes. SSF and Climate-KIC will jointly be hosting an exclusive one-day workshop to gain industry feedback on these tools. The workshop goals are to give an overview of existing metrics and tools, engage with participants to determine the practical use of such tools and identify relevant gaps. In order to achieve these goals we are bringing together a select group of practitioners and experts from the field to interact on these topics. As additional input, we will also hold short sessions on European regulatory initiatives and give insights into scenario analyses, both topics that must be considered when developing efficient tools.

We look forward to your participation and further discussions.
